Falling Asleep

By B. J. Lee

I go to bed.
I close my eyes, but specters
in my mind arise.
I punch my pillow, toss and moan.
Clearly, I am not alone.
I crack an eyelid, scan the room – that’s when I see dark shadows loom.
I rub my eyes
so hard they burn.
I crumple up my sheets and turn. I struggle, wrestle through the night, then, finally, at dawn’s first light: as sunbeams ’cross my window creep,
I shudder twice and fall asleep.

Questão 11. Porque a personagem neste poema não consegue dormir?

Questão 12. Por quanto tempo a personagem do poema permanece acordada na cama?

Questão 13. Qual significado da palavra specter?

Questão 14. Qual significado da palavra loom?

Questão 15. Qual significado da palavra shudder?

Pandas Leave US National Zoo After Decades

NFK EDITORS - NOVEMBER 9, 2023

Yesterday, the National Zoo in Washington, DC said goodbye to its giant pandas, as they left for China. It’s the first time the zoo hasn’t had pandas in 23 years, and it may mark the end of a 50-year program. The pandas will be greatly missed by the zoo and its visitors.

Black and white giant pandas are special and unusual. They grow to be very large, even though they eat mainly bamboo. In the wild, pandas are only found in China. But for decades, China has used pandas as a way of making positive connections with other countries.

In 1972, US President Richard Nixon and his wife, Pat, visited China. It was a historic visit, since China was largely closed off from the outside world at the time. Mrs. Nixon mentioned that she loved pandas, and China's leader promised to send her some. The pandas wound up at the National Zoo.
